

12-18-1866

Portland Daily Press: December 18, 1866

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalmaine.com/pdp_1866

Recommended Citation

"Portland Daily Press: December 18, 1866" (1866). Portland Daily Press, 1866. 294.
https://digitalmaine.com/pdp_1866/294

This Text is brought to you for free and open access by the Portland Daily Press at Digital Maine. It has been accepted for inclusion in Portland Daily Press, 1866 by an authorized administrator of Digital Maine. For more information, please contact statedocs@maine.gov.

VARIETIES.

—What air does the young mouse
old mouse, when biting his way

—The Staff of Life is the name lately started in London, representing interest.

—One hundred pounds reward the recovery of an original drawing of Dore which was left in a London shop.

—We find the following excellent Boston paper:

To cause a healthy glow to radiate from the body: Buy one or more tons of iron that it is of a kind that will care for it and have it put into cars.

people whom you know to be the poorest of the poor and generally destitute of all that your heart became warm in and the heart will gradually extend its tenderness. This is the way to be decided in the coldest weather.

—Charley says if this snowstorm were the latter part of July, the sufferer list would be poor people in this city would be fearful.

—Long John Wentworth said that the Representatives the other day viewed the support of President Hayes by the mass of soldiers holding pretence, "justified perhaps under the foraging upon the enemy."

—The Round Table with its disregard for paltry matters of fact

the world
Mass., and
of Naxos, seems to
is situated Whig.

with the land.

—The New York critics speak highly of Olive Logan's dramatization of the novel, and we understand that Miss Kew-Forest considers it a valuable addition to her repertoire of comedies.

—Lord Lytton, his brother, Sir John Lytton, Mr. Pollard Urquhart, M. P., and M. de Luhy, and M. Prevost Par-

The unconditional Union men have nominated M. Rordinez of the Tribune, a colored member of the State.

The Wiscasset railroad scheme a curious form. The plan of the people is to connect with the Portneboe Railroad at Richmond. Road the road extended to that city, and in a word for an extension to Peabody begins to be frightened at the losing bar Lincoln County trade.

that she shall be made the terminus when built, instead of Richmond, does not favor this. Her main object in the road is to become a wintering port for the upper Kennebec. The road to Bath would make her a feeder instead of being herself fed by the Rockland's object is increased access for communication with the center. The road to Bath would shorten Boston by a few miles, and hence

To still further complicate this is some quiet talk going on of a Augusta direct to Wiscasset in a projected sale of the water power is accomplished fact. If the road should to Augusta, no bridge over the Kennebec is necessary. If built to Richmond from the river to Wiscasset considerably shortened, but a bridge must be built over the Kennebec at a very great expense. An expensive bridge must be built, — it would require more money than the bridge to Richmond. I don't have made the points of this free for trade sufficiently clear, but you stood that not be used eeding ex-gent, &c.

Co.
esent claim

of the late
this agree-
on or re-
proceeds
me say, to Frazer, session of zed before re to have themselves. They have, under oath, sworn to my face, but in a false position. At the best, the & Co. So, price they

And permit me to add, when such certificates, (which is often the case,) are issued in regard to the residence of the officers, the number of votes giving no official opinion, (at that point,) it is customary for

From a paragraph in the con-

Mr. Cochrane's note, it appears that Mr. Fessenden at fault for the thing been made "the subject of pasquinade." Mr. F. had no more paragraph than had Mr. C. On his certificate he, laughingly, told of the bar that he should not be re-ter January 1st, and for an explicit certificate. To be vision, and hence the paragraph, dictated without the knowledge of me, do not imagine any harm has been done by the mistake or by our paragraph.

THE INFLUENCE OF AMERICA
The last issue of Harper's Weekly contains a portrait of the French Academician ed, and am with a sketch of his career, in which the public sees the influence of a letter from M. Laboulaye to M. translator of his works in this country. He says:

The influence of America is being powerfully felt in our journals. In five years it will be evident that you possess a political ideal. For my part, I am moved to the best of my ability to delude myself so far as to believe nothing human and imperfect institutions; but you have this great that the government among you and an obstacle everywhere to development of the individual. I think that one volume of my Political United States—the History of the —has already been translated in Buenos Ayres, and that a Peruvian is the first volume, the "Historias," for the first, it is somewhat si-

by Mr. F.
by fire on $10,000 to insurance of ministering, in combination of several stances held in general esteem among the treatment of Bronchial affection.

The Troches seldom fail to give relief.

